ABSTRACT

A checklist of spiders from Kashmir, India, is provided which indicates the occurrence of 185 species under 100 genera and 25 families. The checklist is based primarily on the published records of spiders of Kashmir from 1885 to 2023 (up to January). These faunistic records reveal that the most diverse spider families in this region are Salticidae, Linyphiidae, Araneidae, Gnaphosidae, Thomisidae, Lycosidae and Theridiidae while about 11 families (Cheiracanthiidae, Clubionidae, Ctenidae, Filistatidae, Liocranidae, Mimetidae, Oxyopidae, Pimoidae, Scytodidae, Sicariidae and Uloboridae) are represented by a lone genus. The checklist includes taxa that have been identified upto species level. This checklist compiles the available regional faunistic records to serve future research.

Key words: Spiders, Kashmir Himalaya, North Western Himalaya, Arachnids, Araneae, families, genera, list, biodiversity hotspot

Spiders are one of the most omnipresent and a considerably diverse group of arachnids. At present there are 50,871 identified species worldwide (World Spider Catalog, 2023). In India, there are currently 1929 known species (Caleb and Sankaran, 2023). Numerous unrecorded or unknown species, especially from the north-western parts of India remain, where only a few studies have been undertaken some of which are archaic. The work carried out by Pickard-Cambridge (1885) is antiquated as it is more than a century old. Compilation of Caporiacco (1934 and 1935) is outdated at present due to several synonymies, zoogeographical reorganisation and taxonomic regroupings as the study was carried in the entire Himalayan belt of which, now parts are governed by India, Pakistan and China separately. A lion's share of the species have been inadequately described outside the context of any revisionary work, and there has been little comparative research. Therefore, such works are in need of a thorough revision. The work carried out by Dayal (1942), Tikader and Bal (1981), Zabka (1981), Tikader (1982), Sadana (1983), Thaler (1987), Gajbe (1988), Majumder and Tikader (1991) and Hormiga (1994) is highly relevant to the present study. Recent contributions focused on systematic accounts and species enumeration include those of Khan (2009, 2011a and b, 2012a and b, 2013 a and b), Khan and Rather (2012), Chakrabarti (2013), Khan and Khan (2013), Lone et al. (2015), Punjoo and Bhat (2015), Shah and Buhroo (2022) and Singh et al.

(2023). Although the spider fauna of Kashmir is highly diverse, the spider taxonomy remains understudied resulting in the status of many taxa being dubious, since very few detailed research efforts to identify spiders based on their genitalia have ever been undertaken from Kashmir.

MATERIALS AND METHODS

Kashmir is a territory in the northern part of India which covers a total area of 15948 km<sup>2</sup> with an altitude range from 1600 masl (Srinagar) to 5420 masl (Kolahoi peak, Ganderbal) lying in the north-western Himalaya (33°20' - 34°54' N and 73°55' - 75°35' E). This region is known for its diverse geography and climatic conditions, supporting a rich fauna. Its political boundaries include 10 districts (Anantnag, Bandipora, Baramulla, Budgam, Ganderbal, Kulgam, Kupwara, Pulwama, Shopian and Srinagar). However, the present checklist records species from 9 out of 10 districts of Kashmir as no species has ever been recorded from 1 district (Kulgam). The checklist of spiders is based primarily on thorough literature search and published records available. Every entry in the checklist was verified for its consistency with current taxonomic literature, the one present in the World Spider Catalogue (2023). Regional and global distributional data for each species was collected from the published records of the taxa published between 1885 and 2023 and the World Spider Catalogue (2023).

The analysis of the faunistic records reveal the occurrence of 185 species under 100 genera and 25 families. The most diverse families of spiders in this area are Salticidae and Linyphiidae (16 genera each) followed by Araneidae (10 genera), Gnaphosidae and Thomisidae (8 genera each). 2 families (Lycosidae and Theridiidae) have been represented by 6 genera each. Family Tetragnathidae is represented by 4 genera. 3 families (Dictynidae, Pholcidae and Pisauridae) are represented by 3 genera each. 3 families (Agelenidae, Philodromidae and Sparassidae) are represented by 2 genera each. 11 families (Cheiracanthiidae, Clubionidae, Ctenidae, Filistatidae, Liocranidae, Mimetidae, Oxyopidae, Pimoidae, Scytodidae, Sicariidae and Uloboridae) have only a single representative genera reported from this area. The checklist includes species reported from 9 out of 10 political districts of Kashmir as no spider species has ever been recorded from one district (Kulgam). Spiders from most families were recorded from Srinagar (23 families) followed by Ganderbal and Anantnag (17 families each), Pulwama (10 families), Shopian (9 families), Baramulla (8 families), Budgam (7 families), Bandipora (2 families) and Kupwara (1 family).

The checklist includes taxa that have been identified upto species level. 4 families (Amaurobiidae, Corinnidae, Desidae, Eresidae) have also been reported from Kashmir (Singh et al., 2023) but have not been included in this checklist as no species has yet been identified from these families. Genera like Argiope, Argyroneta, Dictyna, Callilepis, Setaphis, Atypena, Milleriana, Obscuriphantes, Alopecosa, Arctosa, Evippa, Lycosa, Marpissa, Phidippus, Zygoballus, Sparassus, Eucta, Achaearanea, Anelosimus, Coleosoma, Enoplognatha, Episinus, Latrodectus, Phoroncida and Theridula have also been reported from Kashmir (Singh et al., 2023) but have not been included in this checklist as species level identification has not been carried out yet. Some spider species vis-a-vis Araneus trifolium, Cyclosa elongata, Nigma puella, Haplodrassus omissus, Sergiolus montanus, Piniphantes himalayensis, Pardosa fuscula, Pardosa vindicata, Mimetus laevigatus, Oxyopes elegans, Oxyopes ramosus, Philodromus cinereus, Physocyclus globosus, Pisaura mirabilis, Stoliczka affinis, Afraflacilla flavipes, Attulus diductus, Cyrba algerina, Evarcha jucunda, Myrmarachne corpuzraroae, Heteropoda venatoria, Nesticodes rufipes, Psammitis xysticiformis, Tmarus stellio and Xysticus maculiger have been reported from India but do not reflect in the distributional records of World Spider Catalogue (2023). However, such species have been included in the present checklist after critical review of the published data.

The checklist indicates that Kashmir has a rich spider diversity, despite harsh climatic conditions. There is an immense need to record the existing biodiversity in the biodiversity hotspots like Kashmir Himalaya. As spiders of this area are not studied thoroughly, it is anticipated that many new taxa could be identified from this hotspot.
